

JUNE 7
2022

High-Dosage Tutoring: State Strategies for Advancing Equitable Learning Recovery

Co-Sponsored by ExcelinEd

ExcelinEd

- Early Literacy Page
- High-Dosage Tutoring Review
- Follow Casey Sullivan Taylor and ExcelinEd: @_CaseyTaylor; @ExcelinEd

Education Trust

- Targeted Intensive Tutoring Research Brief
- Review of State Strategies on Intensive Tutoring
- Follow Allison Rose Socol and The Education Trust: @arosesocol; @EdTrust

North Carolina Education Corps

- Follow NCEC: @ncedcorps

Prior GLR Learning Tuesday Sessions Related to Tutoring

- Scaling High Dosage Tutoring: A Strategy for Learning Loss Recovery, Dec. 1, 2020
- Consultative Conversation: Scaling High Dosage Tutoring As A Strategy to Recover Lost Learning, Dec. 4, 2020
- Conversation with Dr. Mark Schneider, Director of IES at USDOE, Dec. 11, 2020
- State Policy Initiatives to Fast Track Expansion of High-Dosage Tutoring, March 9, 2021
- New Jersey Tutoring Corps: Lessons in Accelerating Learning Recovery, F2F, Oct. 19, 2021
- Accelerating Reading Growth Through High-Dosage Tutoring in Mississippi Communities, CPS, Jan. 11, 2022
- Innovation in In-School Tutoring, March 1, 2022
- Prioritizing Early Relational Health in Tutoring for Equitable Learning Recovery, May 31, 2022