Our Mission

Founded in 2019 by Stephen and Ayesha Curry, Eat. Learn. Play. seeks to unleash the potential of every child and pave the way for amazing kids and bright futures. We support children's holistic well-being through access to nutritious meals, quality reading resources and opportunities to play and be active because everyone deserves the chance to live a happy, healthy childhood.

EAT. LEARN. PLAY.

Strategic Vision

Working to transform the school experience for a generation of Oakland students.

In 2023, Eat. Learn. Play. launched a new movement to raise and invest $50 million+ in additional support and resources for Oakland students. Schools within the Oakland Unified School District (OUSD) are the system that naturally intersects with each of Eat. Learn. Play.'s pillars and are the place where 35,000 Oakland students go to eat, learn and play every day.

PLAY.

Closing the Literacy Gap

In August 2024, we announced an initiative to raise and invest $25 million over the next five years to bridge the literacy gap in Oakland, including providing one-on-one, professional tutoring for 10,000 OUSD students.
